Connecting Research with Ethics

ISSUE 2024/11

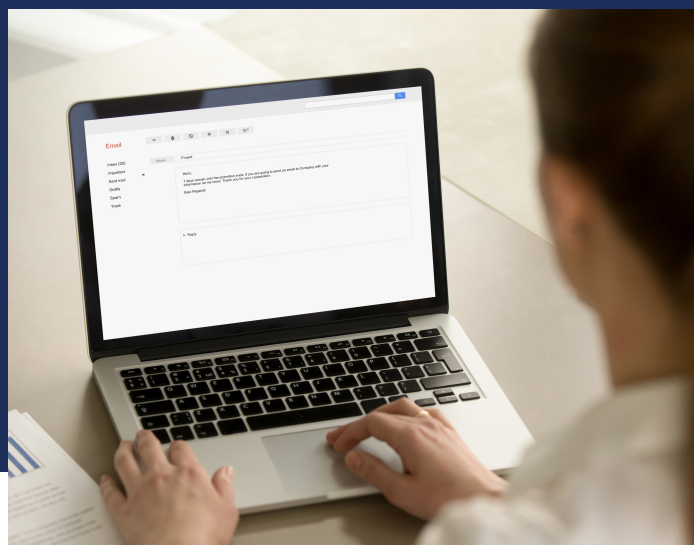

IMPROPER RESEARCH INVOLVING HUMANS

- 1 Studies conducted on human participants without IRB approval
- 2 Research participants being subjected to additional interventions unapproved by the IRB
- 3 Coercion or undue influence of potential research participants
- 4 Misuse of collected personal data or human tissues that does not meet its original research intent

All suspected misconduct, malpractices and/or non-compliances such as these must be reported to the University via the following channels:

RESEARCH MISCONDUCT

To report suspected research misconduct or poor research practice, please email NTU's Research Integrity Officer, Assoc Prof Roderick Bates, at nturio@ntu.edu.sg.

ANONYMOUS REPORTING

Please use our anonymous reporting form. All complainants are requested to substantiate your allegations with a thorough description, along with necessary supporting information.

OTHER ISSUES

Issues not related to research (e.g. HR or Finance matters) should be directed to NTU's Ethics and Compliance Committee (ECC) via this online form.

NTU practices a Whistleblower Protection Policy and all reports will be handled with strict confidentiality.
