A BULLETIN BY THE RESEARCH INTEGRITY AND ETHICS OFFICE

Singapore Open Research Conference 2022

The Singapore Open Research Conference, jointly organized by the Research Integrity and Ethics Office, Library and LKCMedicine, was held on 2 November with the theme “Accelerating Research with Responsible Open Science”. Graced by Professor Ling San (NTU Deputy President and Provost), the conference was held at LKCMedicine Novena Campus and featured distinguished speakers both local and overseas. The conference attracted a diverse crowd from various research institutes, publishers, and funding agencies coming together to drive the open science initiative forward. A paper used capital T's instead of error bars

As the year is coming to a close, RIEO would like to share this interesting article where a published graph used capital T's to represent error bars. The paper, published in the journal Advances in Material Science and Engineering by Hindawi in July 2022, came under heavy fire on social media. Read more on Retraction Watch.
